

Bioclimactic Screenhouse, Brooklyn,

Inspired by the biospheres at the nearby Brooklyn Botanic Garden, the structure is designed to create a cool, dry environment in the summer and a lush, temperate oasis in the winter. Radiant floor heat will keep it efficiently warm in the cold season. Large, 5' by 2' screen windows and solar powered ceiling fans will ensure a cool summer environment.